

Adam Seagrave on Darwin and the Declaration

A discussion with Adam Seagrave, Kinder Institute Associate Professor of Constitutional Democracy, University of Missouri about Darwin and the Declaration. Seagrave argues that Darwin's view of nature undermines the claims in the Declaration about human equality and natural rights. In making this argument, Seagrave notes the difference between the common sense and the scientific understanding of the world and defends the common sense view.